This portfolio looks to achieve capital growth in excess of inflation, whilst supporting inclusive economic development by investing in more environmentally and socially sustainable business practices. The portfolio will look to do this by investing in a diversified range of funds, which allocate capital to sustainable themes, such as healthcare and social housing, financial inclusion and education, the circular economy and renewable energy. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes with a medium allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 55%) and other risk assets. Target volatility: 4% - 7%

Portfolio pillar mapping

As part of the LGT Wealth Management Sustainable Model Portfolio Service, we have developed four sustainable investment pillars. These pillars encompass investment themes and the related the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDG), which they aim to support. Two of the pillars target social themes and two target environmental themes. This allows the translation of a framework based on a global, wide-reaching social and environmental change into an investable universe of ideas.

Our sustainable investment pillars

In order to better understand the thematic exposure of the portfolios, we have aligned the underlying funds to our sustainable pillars.

Monthly investment update

In March, equity markets continued to post strong performance in the month, with the S&P 500, the EuroStoxx 600 and the Nikkei 225 all registering gains. But the top performer in March was the FTSE 100, as increases in oil prices and other commodities helped push the resource-heavy index higher.

Investors found reassurance from the Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's remarks on inflation, which eased concerns, signalling a potential for three rate cuts this year. Across the Atlantic, the ECB hinted at upcoming rate cuts in June, contrasting with the Bank of England's decision to maintain rates at 5.25%, albeit with hints of future easing.

The most important central bank activity last month came from the East, with the Bank of Japan (BoJ) abandoning its negative interest rate policy and altering its asset purchasing programme. This was the first time the BoJ raised rates in 17 years.

Overall, global stock markets rallied, reflecting growing confidence in a soft landing. Nonetheless, the persistence of high interest rates underscored the importance of resilient businesses.
